DETAILED ACTION

Drawings

1. The drawings were received on 8 February 2006. These drawings are acceptable.

Election/Restrictions

2. This application (as of the 'Amendment and Reply Under 37 C.F.R. 1.111' filed on 8 February 2006) contains claims directed to the following patentably distinct species:

Species I, drawn to an image display element embodiment comprising a first electrostatic shielding unit [Fig. 2; 11] and a second electrostatic shielding unit [Fig. 2; 12] connected to a predetermined scan line [Fig. 2; 13] (see Page 9, Lines 16-22 of the instant specification, for instance), requiring at least a separate field of search in class 345, subclass 100 (i.e. scan line circuitry provided relative to display elements); and

Art Unit: 2629

The species are independent or distinct because the species do not overlap in scope, i.e., are mutually exclusive; the species are not obvious variants; and the species each have a materially different design, mode of operation, function, and effect. Furthermore, each species would require a different field of search, ultimately resulting in a burdensome search and examination. Although the aforementioned divergent subject matter was more or less intact at the time of the previous office action (mailed 11 August 2005), the applicants' claim amendments and ensuing remarks filed 8 February 2006 have persuaded the examiner that independent/distinct species are definitely being claimed, which if left unchecked would result in a serious examination burden henceforth.

Applicants are required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed species for prosecution on the merits to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. Currently, claims 1-7, 12, 13, and 17 appear to be generic.

Applicants are advised that a reply to this requirement must include an identification of the species that is elected consonant with this requirement, and a listing of all claims readable thereon, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered nonresponsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicants will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which depend from or otherwise require all the limitations of an allowable generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicants must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

Art Unit: 2629

3. A telephone call was made to Mr. Phillip J. Articola (Registration Number 38,819) on 20 April 2006 to request an oral election to the above restriction requirement, but did not result in an election being made.

Applicants are advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species or invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

The election of an invention or species may be made with or without traverse. To reserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse.

Should applicants traverse on the ground that the inventions or species are not patentably distinct, applicants should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the inventions or species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C.103(a) of the other invention.

4. Applicants are reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
